Description:

The Southern Growth Policies Board's Report on the Future of the South offers insight into the changing economy and what it means for today's workforce. Authors note that as globalization and competition increase, the presence of skilled labor has become a major deciding factor for businesses looking to expand. As to the skills employers are seeking – they are changing as well. There is an increasing demand for industry credentials, which stands in contrast with traditional measures of educational attainment such as course credits and seat time. Ultimately, these changing criteria have led to a mismatch between what many students learn in school and the skills that will allow them to secure well-paying jobs later on. Battelle for Kids developed this learning walk to help shed light on these challenges and opportunities, as well as current efforts across the state to address skills gaps and prepare students for college and careers.

Once you have completed the module, you must submit the “Step-Three – Reflect and Synthesize” culmination activity to the TSBA Registrar at registrar@tsba.net.

- Board members must have access to a computer with internet connectivity.

Description:

This learning walk, developed by Battelle for Kids (BFK), offers an overview of this strategy – including its history and context, current research, and implementation considerations.

Once you have completed the module, you must submit the “Step Three – Reflect and Synthesize” culminating activity to the TSBA Registrar at registrar@tsba.net.
