

The Community

Named the 'Most Livable Town' in Tennessee, Murfreesboro is the 10th fastest-growing city, for communities over 50,000 in population, in the United States. Murfreesboro provides the quality of life that attracts growth including plentiful housing, excellent schools, employment opportunities, outstanding services, recreational programs and medical facilities.

Located just southeast of Nashville, this vibrant Southern community features a Civil War national battlefield; Nissan plant, historical homes, a pioneer village, children's nature center, Boro Beach water park, one of the largest outdoor shopping venues in the state, and over 400+ restaurants.

In the past decade, Murfreesboro has enjoyed substantial residential and commercial growth. The city's population has increased 53.2% from 44,922 in 1990 to 68,816 in 2000. In 2017, Murfreesboro had a population of more than 130,000. Today, Middle Tennessee State University is the home of 23,000, or more, students and has the highest undergraduate enrollment in the state.

The District

Murfreesboro City Schools is a Pre-K through 6th grade district, where a collaborative learning family meets the needs of the whole child. Our commitment to academic excellence is evident: we are a state-designated Exemplary district, and our students hold top honors at the National Quiz Bowl and National Invention Convention. Our commitment to the social and emotional success of each child has produced Gold Level school designations by the Vanderbilt Student Behavior Supports Project. Finally, our commitment to preparing children for the future through real-world applied learning has resulted in an award-winning Junior Chef Academy, exemplary Farm to School program, Drone Racing League, and more. Additionally, MCS children are given many opportunities to learn outside the classroom such as performing in our arts academy, learning science through horticulture or achieving success through one of our many hands-on learning camps.

MCS also boasts a strong Extended School Program (ESP). The ESP program is a year round extension of the school day offering students the opportunity to become involved in enriching activities and giving parents the convenience of safe school-based care for their child.
